

Health professionals authorised to certify access to continuous and flash glucose monitoring products through the NDSS

Health professionals listed in these tables are authorised to certify access to Continuous Glucose Monitoring (CGM) and Flash Glucose Monitoring (Flash GM) products through the NDSS.

1. Type 1 Diabetes; Age Under 21 Years

Health professionals authorised to certify access to CGM and Flash GM products in this cohort must be actively involved in and have the ongoing care and management of children and young people with type 1 diabetes aged under 21 years as their usual scope of practice, and be registered/credentialed to practice as a:

- Diabetologist/Endocrinologist
- Paediatric endocrinologist
- Paediatrician
- Physician
- Nurse practitioner
- Credentialed diabetes educator.

General practitioners and practice nurses are not authorised to certify access.

2. 'Other' Eligible Conditions; Age Under 21 Years

Health professionals authorised to certify access to CGM and Flash GM products in this cohort must be actively involved in and have the ongoing care and management of children and young people with 'other' eligible conditions aged under 21 years as their usual scope of practice, and be registered to practice as a:

- Diabetologist/Endocrinologist
- Paediatric endocrinologist
- Paediatrician
- Physician.

General practitioners, credentialled diabetes educators, nurse practitioners and practice nurses are not authorised to certify access.

3. Type 1 Diabetes; Age 21 Years and Over

Health professionals authorised to certify access to CGM and Flash GM products in this cohort must be actively involved in and have the ongoing care and management of people with type 1 diabetes aged over 21 years as their usual scope of practice, and be registered/credentialled to practice as a:

- Diabetologist/Endocrinologist
- Physician
- Nurse practitioner
- Credentialled diabetes educator.

General practitioners and practice nurses are not authorised to certify access.

4. Type 1 Diabetes; Pregnancy Planning, Pregnancy, or Immediately Post Pregnancy

Health professionals authorised to certify access to CGM and Flash GM products in this cohort must be actively involved in and have the ongoing care and management of women with type 1 diabetes during pregnancy planning, pregnancy and immediately post pregnancy as their usual scope of practice, and be registered/credentialled to practice as a:

- Diabetologists/Endocrinologist
- Nurse practitioner
- Credentialled diabetes educator.

General practitioners, physicians and practice nurses are not authorised to certify access.

5. Type 1 Diabetes; Pregnancy Planning, Extension of Access

Health professionals authorised to certify applications for extension of access to CGM and Flash GM products in this cohort must be actively involved in and have the ongoing care and management of women with type 1 diabetes during pregnancy planning, and fertility management as their usual scope of practice, and be registered/credentialed to practice as a:

- Endocrinologist/Diabetologist (primary certifier)
- Credentialed diabetes educator (primary certifier)
- Nurse practitioner (primary certifier)
- Obstetrician (secondary certifier fertility specialist)
- Gynaecologist (secondary certifier fertility specialist).

General practitioners, physicians and practice nurses are not authorised to certify extension of access.