Access to Continuous glucose monitoring (CGM) and Flash glucose monitoring (Flash GM) through the NDSS:

Subsidised access to CGM and Flash GM products is open to:

- People with type 1 diabetes and:
- · Children and young people with conditions very similar to type 1 diabetes who require insulin.

To gain access to subsidised CGM and Flash GM products, the individual will need to be assessed by an authorised health professional to determine if they meet specific eligibility criteria.

The eligibility categories and criteria are listed on the CGM and Flash GM Eligibility Assessment form, available at www.ndss.com.au/cgm

A CGM and Flash GM Access form cannot be accepted by an Access Point. It must be submitted as per the instructions on the form.

Flash GM sensors and CGM sensors and transmitters can be ordered through NDSS Access Points.

CGM sensors are available in boxes of three or five, depending on the model.

CGM transmitters are supplied individually, and will operate for three months or 12 months, depending on the model.

Flash GM sensors are supplied individually and operate for fourteen days.
